NOVEMBER DATA EDITION

Announcing the Community Health Profiles

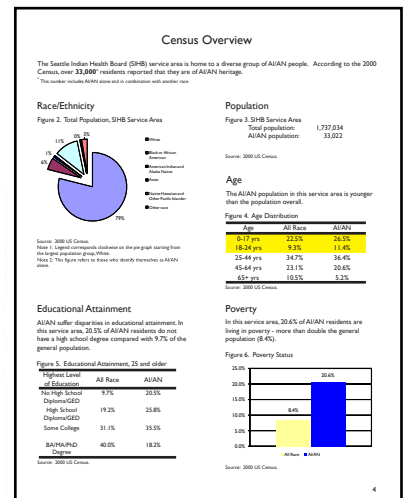

The Urban Indian Health Institute is excited to announce the release of the 2009 Community Health Profiles. These health profiles provide an overview of the health of 34 distinct communities served by the network of Title V funded urban Indian health organizations (UIHO) across the country. The local health data presented in the profiles can be used as a tool for health education, advocacy, or to inform the development of new programming. While the health profiles examine preventable causes of illness, death, and access to care, not every health disparity is examined. The UIHI will be updating the profiles as new data become available. To review your community's health profile, please visit our website: www.uihi.org and select Urban Indian Health Organization Profiles from the top menu. We hope that these health profiles are useful to you and the community you serve.

If you would like to request a hard copy of any of the health profiles or have any questions please contact us at:
