Grant Announcements

Tribal PREP Teen Pregnancy Prevention Funding Available Now

The Family and Youth Services Bureau announces the availability of funding in the form of discretionary, competitive grants to Tribes and Tribal Organizations to support the development of comprehensive, teen pregnancy prevention programs. The Personal Responsibility Education Program (PREP) emphasizes a medically accurate approach, replicating effective programs or elements of programs that have been proven to change behavior.

- Behavioral changes may include: delaying sexual activity, increasing condom or contraceptive use for sexually active youth, or reducing pregnancy.
- "adulthood preparation subjects" -- to help youth in their transition to young adulthood -- is a key element of this program.
- The structure of the grant is one planning year and the subsequent three years of program...
implementation.

Announcements and Opportunities

Winning the future for Native American Youth

President Obama called on young American Indian and Alaska Native leaders to submit their stories of leadership and service in their communities. The stories submitted will be considered and evaluated based on a demonstrated record of service to one's tribe, nation, village, or community. Young leaders who have sought to improve their communities are encouraged to submit stories. Submissions should include a description of the leadership initiatives or community programs; the number of people involved or affected; key examples of success; and explanations of the barriers or challenges and how they were overcome. Submissions can be made in one or more of the following areas:
- Education, Mentorship or Afterschool Programs; Sports, Nutrition or Let's Move! in Indian Country; Substance and Alcohol Abuse Prevention; Health and Wellness, including Youth Suicide Prevention; Building Healthy Relationships and Peer Relationships; Cultural Preservation and Native Languages; Anti-Bullying and Personal Empowerment; Self Expression through Arts and Crafts; Emerging Leadership in Government Service; and Economic and Community Development
