Post-webinar Q&A: July 24, 2012

Question: What happens if you do not close the search box on the Census tool?

Answered by Tina Norris: If you do not close the pop up screen, you won’t be able to get to the next window. For example, if you are choosing a geography screen, you have to close the geography screen before you can then choose a race category or your topics list, so you always have to close the pop up screen before you move forward.

Question: Is there a step by step guide to how to navigate users through the website?

Answered by Tina Norris: This webinar will be posted online but if you have specific questions or needs please contact us and we can walk you through your specific requests or needs.

Question: In the past, there was summary data available such as housing characteristics, education, etc. Is there a summary table that one can gather, say for Navojo nation, as a whole on the US Census website?

Answered by Tina Norris: Yes, we have that information available. You would use the American Indian / Alaska Native tables, the 5-year products, and you can pull that up by reservation and you can get this for housing, economic, and social characteristics. Again, I am happy to help you by walking you through this process of how to pull up reservation-specific data as well.
