August 6, 2012

This e-mail is provided by the Urban Indian Health Institute, a division of the Seattle Indian Health Board. It contains opportunities for staff development, grant announcements and other relevant public health information. We hope you find these resources useful. If you have any questions about the information below, or you are unable to open any of the links, please contact info@uihi.org. If this e-mail was forwarded to you, you may sign up here.

---

Training

SAMHSA/HRSA Motivational Interviewing Webinar Series: Helping People Embrace Behavior Change in Healthcare Settings

The SAMHSA-HRSA Center for Integrated Health Solutions’ 3-part webinar series - Helping People Embrace Behavior Change in Healthcare Settings - will provide primary and behavioral healthcare staff strategies to support individuals’ readiness for health-related behavior change using motivational interviewing.

Read more information about the Motivational Interviewing Webinar Series online.

Engaging People in Discussions about Health-related Changes
August 15, 2012: 2:00 pm - 3:30 pm (Eastern Time)
Register for the August 15 webinar online.

Enhancing Strategies to Promote Individual Change in Primary Healthcare Settings

September 5, 2012: 2:00 pm - 3:30 pm (Eastern Time)
Register for the September 5 webinar online.

Enhancing Strategies to Promote Individual Change in Behavioral Healthcare Settings

September 19, 2012: 2:00 pm - 3:30 pm (Eastern Time)
Register for the September 19 webinar online.

Announcements

Employment Opportunity: Project Analyst at the Oregon Public Health Division

The Oregon PRAMS Tribal Outreach grant will fund an American Indian Maternal and Child Health Project Analyst who will create a Tribal Advisory Committee to suggest what data (in what formats) would be of value to American Indian health organizations. The Analyst will collect and disseminate data about influenza, influenza vaccination and other maternal and child health issues that are relevant to American Indians. The Analyst will travel to the tribal health centers and organizations to solicit suggestions and disseminate data.

For more information about the Health Project Analyst Position contact Ken Rosenberg.

Northwest Center for Public Health Practice Call for Articles: Public Health Leadership for Changing Times

Northwest Public Health is look searching for authors for their Spring/Summer 2013 issue. Northwest Public Health is a journal that links evidence and action. Public health leadership is found in many places and takes many forms. How has your organization changed public health for the better? What defines "the cutting edge" for public health leadership today? In today's complex environment, how can public health play a leading role? The journal editors are looking for 1000-word, evidence-based articles that include photos and/or other illustrations.

Visit the Northwest Public Health website for more information about the call for articles.

Contact Candace Tkachuck, Managing Editor, with a short description of your proposed article by August 31, 2012. She will respond with additional details about the submission process and deadlines.

Resources

HHS/Administration for Children and Families: New Resource Guide Released

This Guide to Resources and Funding for Community and Faith-based Organizations is an important component of our effort to inform the public about the wide range of programs and resources provided by Administration for Children & Families. The resource guide contains an overview of the agency, basic information about finding and applying for federal funds, specific information about ACF’s grant opportunities, and numerous resources and toolkits available for any community or faith-based organization. Read the full resource guide online.

More reports, resources and other information can be found on the UIHI website, www.uihi.org