National HIV Program Enhanced HIV/AIDS Screening and Engagement in Care

The Indian Health Service is offering a cooperative agreement to meet community needs for the enhancement of HIV/AIDS testing activities and the provision of HIV/AIDS-related services among AI/AN people. The main goals are to: increase the number of AI/AN with awareness of his/her HIV status; and improve engagement and retention in care among people living with HIV/AIDS. Awardee activities will seek to: increase access to HIV related services, reduce stigma, make HIV testing routine and improve engagement in care.

Application Deadline: August 26, 2013
Award Amount: Approximately $60,000 - $90,000

It's Just Good Medicine: Trauma-Informed Primary Care Webinar

Adverse life experiences have been found to be a risk factor for a variety of serious health conditions and are likely to contribute to an individual's avoidance of and discomfort with medical procedures and healthcare. As HRSA-funded safety-net providers expand their behavioral health capacity to serve clients, trauma-informed care will increasingly become an integral part of good medicine. This SAMHSA-HRSA Center for Integrated Health Solutions webinar will address the prevalence of adverse life experiences and their effect on a person's physical and behavioral health and provide tools and resources for addressing these issues in a primary care setting.

August 6, 2013 1:00 p.m. - 2:30 p.m. (Eastern Time)

FDA Communications Report Open for Comment

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration has issued a report, Ensuring Access to Adequate Information on Medical Products for All, on how the agency communicates the benefits and risks of medical products to health care providers and patients, especially underrepresented populations, including racial subgroups. The report also discusses some of the steps FDA is taking to improve communications with underrepresented populations including the development of a foreign language action plan and expanding the agency's outreach to the minority community through new communication channels such as social media.

Deadline for Public Comment: September 9, 2013

World Health Organization Findings on Violence Against Women

The World Health Organization (WHO) released findings, a recommendation report and infographics on violence against women. These guidelines are an unprecedented effort to equip healthcare providers with evidence-based guidance on how to respond to intimate partner violence and sexual violence against women. They also provide advice for policy makers and encourage better coordination and funding of services. The guidelines cover training relating to sexual violence and partner violence for health care providers.
