Resources and Opportunities

September 16, 2013

This e-mail is provided by the Urban Indian Health Institute, a division of the Seattle Indian Health Board. It contains opportunities for staff development, grant announcements and other relevant public health information. We hope you find these resources useful. If you have any questions about the information below, or you are unable to open any of the links, please contact info@uihi.org. If this e-mail was forwarded to you, you may sign up here.

Training

National Diabetes Month: Working Together to Prevent Vision Loss Webinar

The National Eye Health Education Program will be hosting a webinar about diabetic eye disease and opportunities to help raise awareness among people with diabetes during National Diabetes Month in November. In addition, the National Eye Health Education Program provides an array of resources including a new Social Media Toolkit, infographics, public services announcements and educational materials.

October 2, 2013 11:00 a.m. - 12:00 p.m. (Eastern Time)
Find more information about the National Diabetes Month: Working Together to Prevent Vision Loss Webinar online.

Resources

National Library of Medicine Native Voices App

Explore video interviews from the Native Voices exhibition at the National Library of Medicine. This exhibit explores how Native people of the United States and Alaska improve their wellness through both traditional and Western healing practices. Hear individuals share stories about the medicinal practices of their Native culture. Topics include traditional healing ways, modern treatments, death, and the relationships of health and illness to military service.

Download the National Library of Medicine Native Voices App online.

A Public Health Approach to Bullying Prevention Resource

The American Public Health Association published a book, A Public Health Approach to Bullying Prevention, presenting a public health approach to bullying prevention in a comprehensive and deliberate manner. The book will serve as a practical, sustainable, cost-efficient strategy to address bullying. In addition, it may be an invaluable resource at a time when bullying is becoming increasingly more difficult to tackle.

A Public Health Approach to Bullying Prevention can be purchased through the American Public Health Association online.

More reports, resources and other information can be found on the UIHI website, www.uihi.org

---

Urban Indian Health Institute
Seattle Indian Health Board
PO Box 3364
Seattle, Washington 98114
(206) 812-3030