January 27, 2014

This email is provided by the Urban Indian Health Institute, a division of the Seattle Indian Health Board. It contains opportunities for staff development, grant announcements and other relevant public health information. We hope you find these resources useful. If you have any questions about the information below, or you are unable to open any of the links, please contact info@uihi.org. If this email was forwarded to you, you may sign up here.

Training

Community Commons Nonprofit Resource Webinar

Community Commons will host a webinar describing how to utilize their data visualization tools to choose the right data for your community, use their report toolkit to understand community context, and create and share maps.

A Nonprofit Resource for Making Your Case

January 28, 2014 1:00 p.m. - 2:00 p.m. (Central Time)
National Indigenous Women’s Resource Center Native Creation Story Series

The National Indigenous Women's Resource Center is offering a webinar series on stories from various tribal cultures that speak to the sacredness of women. Women are sacred is a belief that is central to most Native cultures; restoring and strengthening this belief will not only strengthen Indian women, but will strengthen our families, our communities, and our Nations.

The next webinar in the series:

White Buffalo Calf Woman
January 29, 2014 1:00 p.m. - 2:30 p.m. (Mountain Time)

Find more information about the Native Creation Story Series online.

National Health Service Corps Loan Repayment Program

The National Health Service Corps opened their 2013 Loan Repayment Program application cycle. The program offers primary care medical, dental, mental and behavioral health providers the opportunity to have their student loans repaid while serving in communities with limited access to care. Urban Indian Health programs are noted as approved sites.

Application Deadline: March 20, 2014

More information about the National Health Service Corps Loan Repayment Program can be found online.

Pathways Into Health: Achieving Excellence, Harmony, and Balance Conference

The 7th National Achieving Excellence, Harmony, and Balance Conference will be hosted by Pathways Into Health with the theme, "Enhancing Cultural Attunement Across Health Professions through Education and Career Development." The purpose of this conference is to bring together a diverse group of individuals and organizations to contribute to the cultivation of a robust American Indian and Alaska Native health care workforce.

March 11-13, 2014
Albuquerque, NM

Find more information about the Achieving Excellence, Harmony, and Balance Conference online.

Fellowship
National Cancer Institute Health Communications Internship Program

The Health Communications Internship Program gives highly qualified graduate students and recent graduate degree recipients the opportunity to participate in vital health and science communications projects in one of the many offices that make up the National Cancer Institute. Interns will select an area of emphasis on either health communications or science writing. Six-month and one-year internship terms are offered.

Application Deadline: March 4, 2014

Find more information about the Health Communications Internship Program online.

Find more reports, resources and other information on the UIHI website, www.uihi.org